

Factory Installed Security bars

When combined with a sleeve, security bars (also known as burglar bars) provide maximum protection for installations where penetration through a wall needs to be secure. Nailor offers security bars factory installed in a sleeve, with a variety of bar designs, bar material, construction types, and bar spacing.

Installation of security bars for life safety dampers at penetrations of fire-rated walls, floors or partitions require special consideration. Security bars must be installed so that they do not interfere with operation or installation of a damper, as well as allow appropriate access to the damper for inspection and service. Nailor's factory installation of security bars maintains the UL classification for all our damper products.

Security Bars are available factory installed on Life Safety Dampers, Control Dampers, and Louvers. Special Engineering Design Requests are available regarding construction. Contact your Nailor Regional Sales Manager for security bar requirements.
